

Figure 6: The eight families of parametric polygons used to generate the meshes in the dataset. Each polygon starts from a rest configuration ($t = 0$, left column), and progressively worsens for growing values of t , stressing either one or multiple quality measures listed in Table 1.